The first patch of land which might fairly be called "territory," was acquired for is a hundred years ago by the baldeet ad must brilliant of adventures, in a series of confligts to which even an oriental imagination can hardly do justice to. It was in the service of these growers and traders that Clive won Placey. He entered it a friendless buy, and he left it in a blaze of glory. Sir Phillip Fancis was for many years one of their civilians, and Fr peis is now proved be youd any reasonable doubt to have been the very Junius who shared as no man will ever show again, what terrible facilities for force invective the English tongue supplies. It was in their serv ice that Hastings passed the hing and brilliant earear which supplied materials for the famous trial which Burks and Sheridan and Fox presecut at which the wite and beauties of the age looked on and which Macasley has described. Every incidons of it was grand. The proconsul was another Verres, and, one, at least of the managers might have seet Closers, and have felt himself worshy of his foe. It was in their service that Colonel Ar thur, & affectley first showed signs of the happy as gazity which in after years won the bloody field of Vittoria, and stood its ground at Waserloo. Sir Charles Napier-Old Charles "-fought for the mapony in his very prime, annexed a whole King Matty at empire-rivalied Clive at Meannes, then Tought with his employers, and finally in his old age was called on to save it from the tulwars of the Sikhs. Lord Gough and Lord Hardings both was their bosom under its banners. Lord Ellenborough became famous-as famous as any of his aga tacite rigeroy. Macauley has served it, and egarased it. MECHANICS, INVENTORS. MANUFACTURERS AN PARRIES.

The Scientific American has now reached its Fourteeath Yver, and will enter upon a new roleme on the 11th of September. It is the only weekly sublication of the kind now issued in this country, and it has a very extensive circulation in all the States of the Union. It is not as some might say pose from its title, a dry, abstruse work on toobsie al science; on the contrary, it so deals with the great events going on in the scientific, mechanical and industrial worlds, as to please and instruct every one. If the mechanic of Artisan wishes to know the best machine in use, or how to make any substance employed in his business-if the House wife wishes to get a receipe for making a good color, &c ... if the laventor wishes to know what is All young persons should have a standard Dio going on in the way of improvements if the Man ufacturer wishes to keep posted with the times it can the agent; that Dictionary is Noan Wan and to employ the best facilities in his besiness stan's the great work, unabridged. If you are too if the Man of Lelsure and Study wishes to keep chemical labratory or in the construction of telegraphs, steamships, reilroads, respers, moures sai a thousand other machines and appliances, both of poace and war all these desiderate can be found n the Scientific American, and nor Statement. They are here presented in a reliable and lateresting form, adapted to the comprehension of minds unlearned in the higher branches of science and
